

Taylor, the Fisherman! On May 30, Grandma & Grandpa Cavallaro take Taylor fishing for her second time. She practiced handling a Zeco rod and reel and caught on quickly! “Form” is quite important for a pretty girl like Taylor, so she had to practice and learn just how to do it right, but still look good:o)

When the fish don't bite right away, it's still very relaxing just to sit and enjoy the beauty of Arrowhead County Park, near Neola, Iowa. Plenty of geese to entertain a person, until the fish get 'round to creating some action.

Well, it paid-off! All of Taylor's practicing and patience was rewarded. She was the first one of us to catch a fish, and caught her second one a little later. This girl is now a full-fledged fisherman! Good going, Taylor! (Maybe the 'Dad' hat brought her luck?)
